

LIBRARIES AND INFORMATION NETWORKS

LI.1

Library and health information services are made available to meet the informational, educational and, when appropriate, research needs of the organization.

LI.1.1 Library services provide current and useful materials pertinent to the clinical, educational, and research services offered.

LI.1.2 An organization that does not maintain a library has a cooperative arrangement with libraries and information networks.